

EMPLOYMENT

Plant Operator

• Merton Location

Fox Ag was established in 1994 and is part of the Rodwells/Ruralco business, we are a major supplier of fertiliser, seed, stockfeed and services to the region. Over the years we have developed the business capability so that when we sell seed, fertiliser or chemicals, we value add with sowing, spreading and spraying services, using our own machinery and transport.

The role will involve store based counter sales and customer service, along with hands on equipment and machinery operation in the field. It's also a great opportunity to learn about rural merchandise sales and services operation.

To be successful you will demonstrate knowledge of spraying and seeding and other on-farm experience. We are seeking a reliable and committed individual who enjoys being hands on and getting the job done. This role involves manual handling including stock movement and the operation of machinery.

To apply for this rewarding role in a great team simply email your resume to Peter Howie
